

I am opposed to relaxing FCC rules that regulates media ownership. I think there needs to be an open discussion of since this is an extremely important issue. Relaxing the rules will lead to excessive concentration of media ownership which is extremely harmful for a democracy. We need to have access to a wide variety of opinions and views to form judgments on major issues. There will be far less diversity of new coverage if all media outlets are owned by few coporations.